WORLD FEDERATION FOR COMPANY SPORT

EDITOS

Mrs. Ursula von der Leyen, President of the European Commission

“The European Company Sport Games are an excellent initiative that is rooted in European values. It brings together what makes Europe strong: the will to perform, the desire to take part in competitions with fair play, the curiosity to discover the land and the people on each side of the continent. And, of course, the joy of the people who participate so willingly and enthusiastically, contributing to the success of the event. It is thanks to initiatives like the European Company Sport Games that our European community is so strong.”

Mr. Thomas Bach, President of the International Olympic Committee (IOC)

“Skills, behaviors and principles applied in the sport area can be adapted to the business and company area. All organisations that contribute to gather companies and sport federations to develop sport and physical activity for all are welcomed.”

Mrs. Marie Christine OGHLY, President World Association of women entrepreneurs (FCEM)

“Company sport is growing at European and world level. This development is mainly explained by European and World Federation for Company Sport as they multiply communication, lobby and advisory activities.”

Mr. Didier BESSEYRE, President of the European and World Federation for Company Sport (WFCS)

“The purpose and activities of the WFCS are clearly linked to a need expressed by both employees and employers. Whether it's a question of social issues, management, corporate culture, networking, productivity or health, the positive impact of physical activity in the workplace is now recognised. Employee well-being and performance: two arguments that resonate with employees and decision-makers alike. Sport in the workplace is much more than just sport! "

« Company sport concerns all physical activities and sport implemented by or within the company »

A sedentary employee practicing physical activity at work will improve the productivity between 6 and 9%.

Gatel, Cormier-Bouligeon, 2019

31% of the world's population do not practise the recommended amount of physical activity to protect their health.

World Health Organization

45% of Europeans say they never exercise or play sports.

Special Eurobarometer 525, 2022

79% of working people want to work in a company that encourages sports.
